RIVER MAY REACH MORE THAN 50 FEET IN THIS DISTRICT

Weather Forecaster Devereaux Says
Crest May Be 55 Feet—Sharp Rise
In River Last Night—Stream
Continues to Creep
Up Banks.

The Ohio river may go beyond the flood stage of 50 feet in this district is the statement made this morning by District Weather Forecaster Devereaux in Cincinnati. He predicts that a flood stage of 50 feet will be reached at Cincinnati by Saturday morning and that the crest may not be reached before Sunday.

During Thursday night the Ohio at this point rose several feet. The gauge at the local wharf at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon registered 33 feet and at 8 o'clock Friday morning it registered 41.2 feet. At 3 o'clock Friday afternoon the government gauge registered 43.5 showing a rise of 2.3 feet in seven hours on a very large volume of water.

The flood stage of fifty feet will put water on the floor of Limestone bridge and greatly interfere with traffic into the East end of the city. Forty-five or six feet will put water in the "hole" under the C. & O. railroad bridge on Bridge street and make it necessary for the street car passengers to transfer. This is expected Friday night.

Should the river reach a stage of near 55 feet in the Maysville district considerable damage will be done here but so long as the river does not reach a higher stage than 50 feet little damage will be done.

The very cold weather the people of this section are now experiencing will do much toward holding the river back. As long as the ground in the up-river districts remains frozen it is possible that anything like a disastrous flood will be averted.

The weather Bureau at Cincinnati received reports Friday that considerable water from Pittsburgh was on its way down the river in addition to the heavy waters from the Kanawha river. At Pittsburgh the river is 22.8 feet—8 inches above flood stage. At Dam 6, below Pittsburgh, the river stage is 32.6 feet, a rise of 13 feet, and two feet above flood stage. At Wheeling the river is 30.4 feet, a rise of 17 feet.

Five to six inches of snow has fallen in West Virginia and there was a very light snowfall in the Cincinnati district Friday morning. A dispatch from Gallipolis Friday morning states that the flood stage there or 39 feet was already exceeded by seven feet and the river was rising half a foot an hour.

INFANT DIES

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, of Short street, died at the home of the parents this morning and burial was made in the Maysville cemetery this afternoon.

WALTER I. NAUMAN DIES OF PNEUMONIA IN ALABAMA CAMP

Prominent Young Business Man Falls In Arms of Life Victim to Pneumonia—Was in the Service of His Country.

A message was received here this morning announcing the death of Sergeant Walter I. Nauman yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the base hospital, Camp McClelland, Anniston, Ala. His father, mother and wife were at his bedside when the end came.

Sergeant Nauman entered the service of his country on May 29, 1918, and had been stationed at Camp McClelland for several months. He had recently undergone successfully two surgical operations but shortly after his apparent recovery from the last operation he contracted influenza which later developed into pneumonia.

The announcement of Mr. Nauman's death in Maysville this morning caused great sorrowing among hundreds of his friends and acquaintances for there were few young men in Maysville more popular. Besides possessing a fine character which was a young man of bright future. A self-made young man who in a few years had built up one of the best grocery businesses in the city and who was respected and honored because of his honesty and straight forwardness, his death is a great loss to the community. Maysville can ill afford to lose such young men as Walter Nauman for they are rare.

Besides his wife Mr. Nauman, who is about 25 years of age, is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Nauman, of this city, four sisters, Misses Helen, Stella and Freda Nauman and Mrs. W. O. Davis, all of this city, and three brothers, Charles E., Jr., of Huntington, W. Va., Richard L., now in France with the colors and Ernest, of this city.

The remains will be brought to Maysville on C. & O. Number Four Saturday evening and arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

Besides being a successful young business man, Mr. Nauman was in the best sense of the word a Christian gentleman. His Christianity extended beyond the walls of the church in which he worshiped and was plainly visible through his every day life. Every one honored him for the sort of life he lived and it can be truly said of him that his candle was not hid under a bushel but it shined that all who came in contact with him could see and read him.

He was a member of the Third Street M. E. Church and also a member of the local Masonic fraternity.

He was a successful business man, a dutiful son, a good brother, a true Christian gentleman, a patriotic soldier and a splendid example for the young manhood of the community. The entire city mourns with the loved ones the loss of a truly good man.

GOOD QUALITY OF TOBACCO BRINGS SPLENDID PRICES

Maysville Tobacco Market Is Active With All Grades Bringing Good Money and Every One Well Pleased With the Sales.

The Maysville Tobacco market continued during Friday to show much strength and all sellers were very well pleased with the prices they obtained. The price which is being maintained well indicated that the speculators who have been operating through this district knew just about what they were doing and were playing safe when they offered prices that nearly frightened some for good crops. The buyers show their eagerness to get good baskets and a specialty good quality of tobacco starts bidding up very lively.

The sales opened again Friday morning at the Liberty and the Central warehouses where sales were blocked on Thursday evening. The Liberty was sold out before noon and this very large warehouse is well filled with tobacco and it is more than likely that it will take a set of buyers more than a day to sell out the break offered there.

As is the usual custom of the market there will be no sales at any of the houses on Saturday but the market will re-open in full blast on Monday morning.

During Friday a very large amount of Ohio tobacco was delivered here and tobacco is all of good quality and will cause the market to open next week just as strong as it closed Friday afternoon.

Houses selling reported as follows:

Central
Pounds sold	171,710
High price	$68.00
Low price	10.25
Average	29.55

Huntington, W. Va., January 2—The local tobacco market continues strong. Sales today amounted to 70,000 lbs. at an average of 33c, an average increase of more than 1c over that of the previous day of trade.

Frankfort, Ky., January 2—The tobacco sales today totaled 120,000 lbs., at prices ranging from 50c a pound down to 12c a pound, with an average of 33c a pound. The high water and cold weather did not affect the market, which remains exceptionally good.

MASON COUNTY CHICKEN SHOW TO BE HELD FIRST FEBRUARY

Mason County Poultry Association Fixes February 4 to 8 as the Dates For Their Big Annual Chicken Show in Maysville.

A very interesting meeting of the Mason County Poultry Association was held last night at the Chamber of Commerce building. There were many members of the association present and many other chicken enthusiasts who are not identified with the organization.

Prof. J. Holmes Martin, of Kentucky University, was present and gave a very interesting address. At the close of the address all present enjoyed a very pleasant round table discussion of fowls which besides being very interesting was also very instructive.

The chief purpose of the meeting was to make some arrangement for the annual Chicken Show to be held each year by the association and after considerable discussion it was finally decided to hold the show February 4 to 8. A committee composed of Judge H. P. Funnell, Fred Cablish and Charles Conrad was appointed to make arrangements for the event which will be bigger and better than ever. It was announced that the show would be open for the world and it is expected that some fine birds will be on display.

It was decided to have a special class for Juniors and another special class for the Rhode Island Reds distributed in the county through the standardization plan.

Mr. George C. Crowell is seriously ill at his home in East Second street.

GOOD MESSAGES FOR THEIR MEMBERS

The attendance at every church should be extra good next Sunday. The first Sunday of the new year cannot be carelessly spent away from the church by any consistent Christian. Every minister feels the importance of the day and will have a message his own members should hear.

Special announcement is being made of the subject to be treated by the minister of the Christian Church, A. F. Stahl. He will sum up the assets and the liabilities of his church. He is requesting the younger members of his church who are of school age to take down the outline of the sermon, in order that they may know whether the assets exceed the liabilities.

WILSON IS GIVEN GREAT OVATION BY THROUGHS AT ROME

King and Queen of Italy Meet President Wilson at Railroad Station—Entire City Is Ecstase.

Rome, January 3—President Wilson arrived in Rome at 10:25 o'clock this morning. He was received at the station by King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena, members of the government and representatives of the local authorities. A tremendous crowd welcomed the President with the greatest enthusiasm.

The whole city was en fete for the occasion and the buildings along the streets between the railway station and the Quirinal were gay with flags and bunting. Thousands of people lined the route of the procession, cheering and waving banners. In addition to the draperies of the buildings the streets were lined with Venetian masts bearing flags and the Italian coat of arms. As the train drew into the city amidst the noisy demonstrations and dirigibles darted back and forth in the sky.

The programme arranged for President Wilson's entertainment today included a luncheon with Queen Mother Margherita, a reception by the Parliament and a state dinner with King Victor Emmanuel, following the visit to the President of a deputation from the Quirinal. In the evening the citizenship of Rome will be conferred upon the American Executive.

On Saturday there will be a luncheon at the American embassy in honor of the President. This also is the day set for his visit to Pope Benedict and for his reception to Protestant bodies at the American church. He will take dinner with the court. The President expects to leave for Genoa on Sunday, and possibly will go to Milan. On Monday he will arrive at Turin, where he will make a short visit, leaving for Paris on Monday night.

King Victor Emmanuel has accepted an invitation to have luncheon with President Wilson and family at the residence of Ambassador Page on Friday.

MISS MARY SARGENT DEAD
Miss Mary Sargent, aged 21 years, died Thursday at the home of her uncle, Mr. Thomas Stevens on the Taylor Mill pike in the county after an illness of several weeks of typhoid fever. Funeral at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Burial in the Maysville cemetery.

MONTHLY STOCK SALES WILL BE HELD ON MONDAY

Next Monday Is Regular Monthly County Court Day and Stock Sales Day—Committee Expecting Many Farmers and Cattle Dealers Here.

The committee in charge of managing the regular monthly stock sales expect a good sized crowd of farmers and stock men in the city on next Monday to attend the monthly stock sales. The tobacco market being on in full blast will in all probability attract many farmers here as sight seers.

As a usual thing a large number of the tobacco growers of this section of the country who are unable to attend the opening sales make arrangements to attend the sales on County Court day and the warehousemen are expecting many spectators at the sales Monday.

In view of the fact that the government is soon to sell at public auction a large amount of mules and horses used by the cavalry during the war would indicate that the horse dealers who have surplus animals on hand will make a frantic effort on next court day to sell their horses before the government lets all of their animals loose and it is expected that the horse trading ring will be filled with not only trading stock but first class animals.

GROCERS WILL HOLD SOCIAL HOUR

The members of the Maysville Grocers' Association held a very interesting meeting at the Chamber of Commerce building last night at which business of importance was transacted. The grocers expect to give a social on the evening of Thursday, January 16.

REVENUE OFFICES WILL BE MERGED ON JULY 1st

Covington, Owensboro and Danville Internal Revenue Stations Will Be Abolished and Others Enlarged.

Washington, January 2—Plans for consolidation of the five internal revenue offices in Kentucky prepared by the Treasury Department have been suspended, according to information obtained today.

As the matter now stands, the proposed reorganization of this branch of the Federal service in the State will not be made until July 1, beginning of the new fiscal year.

It had been contemplated to bring about the reorganization of the offices early in January, but the mass of details incident to the abolishment of three offices and the enlargement of the remaining two prompted Commissioner Roper to decide to postpone for a time the reorganization scheme. Consolidation plans provide for abolishment of the internal revenue offices at Covington, Danville and Owensboro.

It had been suggested to remove the headquarters of the Seventh Internal Revenue district from Lexington to Frankfort, but this will not be done, it was learned today.

The offices at Louisville and at Lexington will, of course, be enlarged. Other than that fact neither will be affected when the reorganization takes place.

The Treasury Department regards the proposed change at one that will go a long way toward increasing the efficiency of the internal revenue service in Kentucky.

ILLITERACY TO BE WIPED OUT OF THE STATE BEFORE 1920

Kentucky Illiteracy Commission Is Hoping to Wipe Illiteracy From State by End of Next Year.

In a report on Christmas day, it was stated by the Inspector and Examiner that in his examination of the Kentucky Illiteracy Commission, he found more than 100,000 illiterates had been taught during the past five years, leaving about 100,000 to be taught before 1920.

The aim set by Kentucky to wipe out illiteracy before the 1920 census is taken must be accomplished. While it may mean a gigantic task to teach 100,000 in one year to read and write it will, in fact, be easier than it was in the pioneer stages of the movement to teach the first 100,000. Public sentiment is now solidly behind the movement, better methods of teaching adults have been worked out, and a more complete organization has been built up, and the fact that 1920 is near and Kentucky's rank will then be fixed for another decade affords a powerful stimulus.

If 10,000 teachers should each teach one the task would soon be done. Many teachers in Kentucky have taught twice or three times that many during the past few years. If the citizens would divide the task with the teachers, and 10,000 citizens, men and women, would each teach five, it would be done. The war has revealed the handicap of illiteracy and the need of moonlight schools. The five thousand soldiers taught at Camp Taylor, as well as the 95,000 men and women taught in the moonlight schools and in their homes will be missionaries who will spread the gospel of everybody's duty to learn to read and write.

A sweeping campaign will be conducted during 1919 to make for Kentucky's illiterates, one and all, a Happy New Year in which they can read the news and wield the pen. Every patriotic citizen should enlist for the service he can best perform. Certainly all will take a stand for giving these Kentuckians a chance.

IN MEMORY OF OUR BOYS

As we look upon the many service flags in the windows and the many homes that are deprived of loved ones this Christmas day, and the large honored service flags that float with pride over the many cities and villages, we think of the many true Americans that have gone to gain this great victory. American hearts this great over are bursting with joy for the many things they have to be thankful for this Christmas day. I think the people the world over are nearer to God today than they have ever been in all the world's history. God is love, and with love restored in the hearts of the world, heaven and earth are in closer union than they have ever been since the days when Christ lived upon it; and heaven and earth were linked together as one.

Nearly two thousand years ago a child was born in Bethlehem who grew to manhood and taught men the great idea of freedom, both morally and religiously. In the pages of American History, we learn of men, who in order to have freedom came to this country, then a wilderness and began to make for themselves homes where they could save one another and save their Makers, according to the dictates of their own conscience. On July 4, 1776, men with that spirit gathered and signed the Declaration of Independence; pledging their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honors for the protection of these principles. Later we find George Washington and his brave men at Valley Forge; having given all they possess in this world's goods and were freezing, starving, dying but their honor still remained, and they stood by their brave Commander until the power of the oppressor was driven from our land. In the great struggle for our independence we received help from France. When France was recently over run by blood-thirsty huns who had no respect for women or children, our true Americans said: "Our friend is in need we will go to her rescue." When our commander-in-chief sent word to our many boys that they were needed, they at once responded to their country's call and were placed in the many camps to learn that their commander commanded them to do.

As you think of victory gained by Christ on the great battle field of life, of Washington's great sufferings for country and friends, of the great price which Lincoln paid for freedom; and of the many boys who have marched away, of the many heart aches of mothers, wives, sweethearts and friends. Do not forget to count the many, many loved ones who gave their lives for this great cause.

LETTERS FROM OUR SOL- DIERS

Mr. Fred Cablish is just in receipt of the following letter from Mr. Lud Mills, who is now in France:

Somewhere in France,
Sunday, December 8, 1918.
Mr. Fred Cablish, wife and daughter.
Dear Friends:

I received from you some time ago a nice long, interesting letter but at the time friends I found it impossible to answer so now I have time to write you. I sincerely hope these few lines find all well.

I presume its over now and I assure you I am certainly glad because winter was on and it sure is tough in the winter seems to me is bad enough to suit me. I assure you during my experience in this war game I found it just as Sherman spoke. And I am quite sure you knew his statement in regard to it. Well I tell you it seems nice now when we lie down at night that we have not the horrors to contain with like we use to.

Well we are on the move and I guess we will spend Xmas on the water and New Years in America or at least I hope so. I am in the best of health and I sincerely hope I remain so. Well at the time the armistice was signed we were near Metz and now we are far from there.

I have not heard from any one in America for over five weeks, so you can imagine how we are traveling and I am quite sure I will not hear from you for some time.

But my address remains the same so still continue to write because I assure you I appreciate your letters.

George is in Austria now and the chances are he will be there some time. The branch of service I belong to did its bit I assure you. When it came to artillery we had it and we were always where it was going on.

Of course censorship has not been lifted yet so I can not write you an interesting letter until it has been.

But my time will be up in a few months and then I will tell you when I come home. I saw James Brown in the St. Mihiel drive the last time I have seen him, saw Pres. Parker at Baccarat last time I saw him and John Culhoun I saw once in Chantonn.

Well Fred remember me to all. I will write more often now as I have a chance. Hoping my letter finds you and all well. I will say good-bye for this time. As ever your friend.

Adworth W. Lewis has just received the following letter from his son, Edward, now in France:

France, November 26, 1918.
Dear Father:
While thinking of home tonight I thought I would write to you to let you know that I am well and getting along fine. I hope this will find you both well.

I have just got through some home papers which I received last week. I think they had been on the road for some time. I was certainly glad to receive them because I was wishing for something to read. Well father the war is won and it won't be long now before I will be coming home and I will be glad of it too because I am anxious to see old America. I am wearing my service stripe now on my left arm. Every soldier that belongs to the A. E. F. and has been here six months will get a gold V on his left arm. We have been over here six months 18th of this month. Father how is everybody there. I guess all of the boys have gone to the camp but I don't guess they will have to come over here now. I saw Oscar Gamby several times since we came into this camp. He comes over quite often to see us. Also several other boys from home. Oscar said he is ready to go back, no more France for him. I haven't heard from brother for a long time. Does he write to you. I am going to write him tonight. Maybe I can find out where he is located now. Well I guess you all are going to have a large Thanksgiving dinner. We are going to have turkey to eat on that day over here.

That will be a holiday with us. We have Wednesday, Sunday and half day on Saturday. When we first came over we had to work every day and sometimes part of the night.

We have been in the S. O. S. every since we landed in France. Making way to get supplies to the front, that's why we had to work so hard. Just think father I haven't been sick a day since I've been in army. Was sorry to hear of your sick spell. I hope you are well by now. You want to take care of yourself this winter. Don't worry about me because I am all right. And I guess brother is the same. I received Bee picture last week. She certainly does take a good picture. I am tickled to death with it. I tried to have some made Sunday but I couldn't. I will try again soon. Now father I am going to look for a letter from you soon, you know it has been some time since I heard from you. Give my love to mother and all the rest that ask about me and tell them I will see them soon. A merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

WOMEN WORKERS

In almost every line of war activities the women of this country have done well and have taken front rank for doing work that released thousands of men for service overseas. Some women have been over-ambitious, and, at the expense of their health, have filled places once occupied by men. Every woman who, because of overwork, has brought on some ailment peculiar to her sex, should depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her health and strength, as this remedy is now recognized as the standard and has restored multitudes.

And it's all for the benefit of fellow sufferers.
In this grand chorus of local praise Maysville is well represented.

Well-known Maysville people Tell of personal experiences. Who can ask for better proof of merit?

Ben. P. Fleming, constable of Mason County, 217 East Lee Street, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years, getting them at Weed & Son's Drug Store, and they have been of great benefit. At times, my kidneys have been out of order and I have suffered from a dull, constant ache through the small of my back. The kidney secretions have been irregular in passage, too. A box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to relieve me of the complaint in a short time."

Mr. Fleming is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you—don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Fleming had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60c all stores. KENTUCKY RED CROSS MEMBERS TOTAL 250,000

Further Increase in Membership Will Be Yet Reported From Many Counties in the State.

Late returns from counties in the State, delayed in the Red Cross Christmas Roll call, owing to inclement weather and the influenza epidemic, indicate that Kentucky will increase its enrollment from the first report of 200,000 to 250,000 or 275,000.

It will be some days before final reports are made from all Red Cross chapters in the State, as they have not been able to hear from the outlying districts of their counties.

Considerable enthusiasm is manifested by counties that have not been able to reach their quotas. Counties that have exceeded their total membership of 1917 are as follows:

Kenton county is leading the entire State with an enrollment of 34,000 members, an increase of 10,000 over 1917.

Bell county shows an increase of 2,451; Carroll, 363; Fayette, 1,000; Franklin, 731; Fulton, 605; Hickman, 315; Henry, 1,303; Logan, 721; Madison, 51; McCracken, 2,373; Pike, 300; Pulaski, 300; Robertson, 50; Rockcastle, 100; Shelby, 1,607; Simpson, 160; Anderson, 328; Berea, chapter, Madison county, 178; Floyd, 300; Warren, 2,108; Louisville and Jefferson counties, 2,213.

Final reports from the above counties will show an additional increase over 1917 Red Cross membership. In Henry county, with a population of 12,000, nearly 4,000 have enrolled. This is remarkable, considering that influenza prevails throughout the county, and the State management indicates that Henry will be one of the banner counties of Kentucky.

It is expected that the final reports from remaining chapters, with the exception of a few that were unable to make complete canvasses, owing to epidemic and bad roads, will show an increase over the membership of 1917.

Mrs. Thomas J. Knight, who has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Taubee left this afternoon for her home in Louisville.

LAST ASSIGNMENT IS TURNED IN BY EDITOR SAM STAIRS

"Thirty" Is Written For Sam Stairs When He Dies Suddenly at His Home in Dover After Long Newspaper Career.

The great City Editor gave Sam Stairs his last assignment yesterday and he handed in his copy at about 7:45 o'clock as he peacefully rested in his easy chair before the open fire at his home in the town of Dover, where for many years he has chronicled the doings of the community.

Colonel Stairs was 65 years of age and the greater part of his life was spent in a printing office. When but a small lad he became "devil" in the office of his uncle in Seymour, Ind. In this office he "learned the case" and when his uncle was elected to Congress, Sam was made editor of the small weekly paper. When his uncle returned to the editorial tripod Sam heard the call of the city and went to Indianapolis to make a success in the newspaper game. He became a reporter on the Indianapolis Sun and in a few years had succeeded in working himself to the City Editor's desk. After some little time in the big city he again determined to return to Seymour and there he became owner of his uncle's paper. The paper was made a daily and later sold. Sam Stairs founded two other small daily newspapers in this city and was known there as "the father of small dailies."

He came to Mason county many years ago and founded the Dover News which for a time was published in the town of Ripley and carried to Dover by boat. Stairs delivered the paper in the town himself but later he purchased a printing office equipment and published the News in Dover until a few weeks before his death.

So far as is known he was in his usual good health up until the minute of his death. He had eaten a hearty supper last evening and was sitting before the open fire at his home when he was called.

There were very few editors in the state of Kentucky who were more copied than Sam Stairs. A column of editorial squibs which he named "Stair Steps" was written by him each week for many years and these short, pithy editorials were extensively copied. He was an uncompromising Democrat and served his party well. In addition to operating his newspaper, Mr. Stairs operated a Fire Insurance agency in Dover which grew to considerable size. He was one of the biggest hearted men in the community and a large fortune passed out of his hands because of his big heartedness. He was once married but was the father of no children being survived only by a sister, Miss Eva Stairs, with whom he made his home, and one brother, Charles Stairs, of Indiana.

Funeral will be held from the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial in the Dover cemetery.

McADOO CALLED BEFORE SENATE TO EXPLAIN PLAN

Director of Railroads Tell of His Plan For Government Management of Roads.

Washington, January 3—Congress began work today on the railroad problem. Wm. G. McAdoo was called before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to tell of his plan for a five-year period of government control.

Indications tend to confirm reports that unless Congress moves quickly the roads will be turned back to private control June 30.

The various roads now owe the government about $170,000,000. If they are turned back at once the government losses that sum, but if they are operated another six months the debt practically will be wiped out. The freight rate increase has only begun to offset the losses, it was explained.

The roads are not anxious to be freed either until they have received their operating contracts with the government. To date only 31 have been signed.

Should the roads be released now those without operating contracts would be forced to go to the court of claims to get money due them.

GERMAN SHIPS FOR U. S.

Paris, January 3—German merchant ship surrendered to the allies under the terms of the armistice soon will be available for transporting American troops home.

Official announcement to this effect is expected shortly.

In return for the use of German ships, the United States will employ American tonnage in carrying food supplies to Europe.

The arrangement, it is understood, was made by American officials and has been accepted in principle by their allied associates.

Only minor details remain to be worked out.

OHIO WILL NOT BE NEGLECTED BY CONGRESS

Congressman Longworth Secures Promise That Ohio Will Be Included in Congress Program.

Representative Longworth has been successful in getting a promise from the Chairman of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors that the Ohio River will not be neglected in the framing of future river and harbor bills.

Mr. Longworth directed a series of questions to Chairman Small from the House floor. He wanted to know whether the failure to make any appropriation this year for the Ohio was to be considered as a precedent to govern the committee in framing future river and harbor bills.

Chairman Small in reply said the cessation of work on the Ohio during the war period had left something over $10,000,000 on hand to be spent in improving the river during the coming fiscal year; that the amount was ample for all needs, and that he could give his positive assurance that the omission of the usual Ohio River improvement appropriation from the pending bill was not intended as a precedent for future action. With this assurance Representative Longworth and the Ohio River members will support the bill now before the House.
